

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

A little of this and a little of that:

No matter what you do with them, dried eggs are still dried eggs, a statement with which any serviceman will agree. So I had a quiet little smile, to myself, to read in the food resumes, just coming through, that there were almost thirty weeks' supply of dried eggs and about forty weeks' supply of canned corned beef on hand in Great Britain. Our friends in Europe just aren't hungry enough yet to clean out that stock.

We worry about Europe, and our eyes are on Berlin, but Chinese floods left about as many homeless people as the population of Los Angeles County; over three millions. A million tons of rice were ruined. Keep your interest in Europe, but also remember that the future peace of the world, and the future safety of America, lie in the Orient. A slow and long-delayed awakening of interest in this country; the realization that our Chinese policy has been Communist-controlled, in our State Department; arms and provisions from the United States, and the sturdy characters of the South Chinese, who have already experienced communism; these are the things that sustain China until our understanding can be translated into action.

When I go to meetings, I hear the "Dixiecrats" called a "Third Party." The name is the "States' Rights Democratic Party." It is not technically a third (or fourth) party, but a movement INSIDE the present Democratic Party. As of this moment it actually has 45 pledged electoral votes, all in the old South. It now looks to Georgia, and will be on the ballot in Kentucky, Virginia, Texas, and North Carolina. The party expects to be listed in Arkansas, North Dakota, Minnesota, and Maryland. Efforts are under way in Oklahoma and Colorado. Observe these latter-named NORTHERN states. Yet the objective is not a new party, but to take control of the older, major party. This is an interesting political year, this 1948!

An average of 482 new federal employees were added to the payrolls every day in August. The committee on Appropriations feels very strongly on this subject. We supply the money, and we require justification for all money requested. How then can this daily increase be explained? Only by the size and complexity of government, with its increasing departments, agencies and bureaus. We cannot administer; our job is to set policies, to legislate, and to furnish the money for government's costs. The situation can be corrected only with determination, and when there is cooperation between the legislative and administrative arms of the government.

Within the past few weeks, the President again refused to call another special session of the Congress. His political advisors recommended one. So goes the report from Washington.

MILFORD TO BUILD IN LOS ALAMITOS

J. B. Milford, Artesia, who recently built 150 houses in Cypress now proposes construction of a 234-house development on Cerritos street, Los Alamitos.

His tract borders the Los Alamitos air station on the north and consists of 75 acres on the north side of the street about a half mile east of Los Alamitos boulevard.

PROCLAMATION

During the period of October 1st to 8th, inclusive, the editors and publishers of America will sponsor the observance of ninth annual National Newspaper Week.

Their slogan will be: "Your right to know is the key to all your liberties." This precious "right to know" has been cherished by many generations of Americans. It was handed down to us by our founding fathers who wrote a guarantee of freedom of the press into the Constitution of the United States.

Public confidence in an unrestricted press has been justified by the leadership which American editors have given to many movements contributing to this nation's progress. While in other parts of the world the curtailment of editorial freedom has foreshadowed the destruction of many of the institutions of Democracy, the free press of America has helped to keep our nation strong and to preserve its liberties.

So that our people may become more fully cognizant of the importance of preserving their vital "right to know", I, Earl Warren, Governor of California, join in calling attention to the many public services rendered by the newspapers of America and do hereby proclaim the period of October 1st to 8th, inclusive, 1948, as NEWSPAPER WEEK in California.

(Signed) EARL WARREN
Governor California

ATTEST:

(Signed) Frank M. Jordan Secretary of State

Popular Local Girl To Wed Anaheim Resident

The engagement of Miss Beverly Inskeep to Raymond Clancy of Anaheim, was recently announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Inskeep, of 8562 Walker street, at a party given in the home of Miss Inskeep's sister, Mrs. Sam Coughran, of Anaheim.

Miss Inskeep has been employed at the post office in Buena Park, where her brother, Monte, is assistant postmaster.

Supervisor Baker Reveals Plans For Manchester

Supervisor James A. Baker revealed today that highway department plans for the coming year will include widening of Manchester boulevard to a 4-lane highway wherever it coincides with the master plan for later freeway construction. "The budget for 1949 construction to be submitted to the legislature will include funds for this purpose," he said, "and a more complete and detailed picture of the proposed improvement will be released at a later date."

Contracts are already let for construction of the freeway to a point as far east as Eastman street and for a clover leaf at Atlantic, from which point Telegraph road will handle east-bound traffic for the present, he revealed.

Attention is called to the fact that it is necessary to obtain permits to burn in open fires, anywhere in town or in the surrounding county between April first and December first. This warning is especially timely for the observance of "Fire Prevention Week," October third to ninth. Permits may be obtained free of charge, and are usually issued for a period of as long as one week, depending upon the nature of the request. These permits may be obtained from either Haskett A. Kelley, or A. E. "Pat" Arnold, designated fire wardens appointed by the state.

"Fire prevention week" originated in the midwest, where a campaign each year reduced the number of fires, and later October 9, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871 was settled upon as "fire prevention day." In 1920, President Wilson proclaimed October 9 as National Fire Prevention Day and President Harding made the observance a National Fire Prevention Week, and each succeeding president has issued a similar proclamation.

Ten thousand lives are lost in fires each year, and most of them could be saved by community action. President Truman has pointed out in his official proclamation.

Cypress To Figure On New Skyway Map

Thirty-two airports in Southern California have been designated as skyway One airports since the inaugural flight over the skyway route was made last September. C. S. Beesemyer, president of U. S. Skyway One Association, said a progress report revealed last week.

Sixteen Skyway One markers have been installed so far in the Southland, he said. Beesemyer recalled that just a year ago officials of the Chamber and Washington, D. C., Board of Trade, co-sponsors of the skyway project, made the survey flight over the Los Angeles to Washington route—first transcontinental path for personal plans.

Skyway One airports must meet the association's qualifications for facilities and service, and markers bearing the Skyway One insignia must conform with Civil Aeronautics Administration standards, with letters at least 10 feet high showing names of towns, latitude and longitude, and an arrow pointing to true north, Beesemyer explained.

Skyway One markers have been installed in the Los Angeles metropolitan area at Alhambra, Hollywood, Inglewood, Los Angeles (4), Pasadena (2), Pomona, Santa Ana, and Whittier Beesemyer said.

Southland cities outside the Los Angeles metropolitan area credited with the markers are Cypress, Indio, Palm Springs, and Riverside, according to the report.

Several other markers are nearly completed, according to Beesemyer.

A strip map of Skyway One showing facilities along its course, mileage, and other information is being prepared, Beesemyer said.

Public Invited Tuesday Evening To Anaheim Forum

Color motion pictures and a travelogue describing Yosemite park will be featured at the first of the Anaheim public forum meetings scheduled Monday, October fourth. The public is invited to the free entertainment at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium, according to Ralph Pocht, director of the annual forum series. Stan Midgley, called "the cycling cinematographer," will accompany the film with a narrative of his adventures.

Midgley, who started out to be a chemist, turned to travel and photography after graduation from Princeton. Carrying all of his equipment on a bicycle, he traveled through most of the scenic parks of the United States. His motion pictures are a record both of the beauty he found and of the adventures he encountered.

Some of Midgley's photographs of American scenic parks were recently featured in the National Geographic Magazine. He is widely known, not only as a photographer and traveler, but also as a popular writer and humorist.

New equipment delivered to the Cypress volunteer fire station Monday evening included two stretchers and a locker.

HOPE FOR A HARVEST

By COLLIER

IT'S BEING SAID - - IN CYPRESS

That George E. "Rusty" Rust, who lives on Lincoln avenue east of town, and has been nurturing and cherishing a large walnut tree in his front yard, wishes the guilty party or parties who swiped the tree clean of its fruit would please bring back at least one walnut—he wants to see what they taste like!

That Andy Castro used to umpire the Cypress ball games when the town team was in its hey-day, and that although the ball park was across from the schoolhouse on Lincoln avenue, old-time residents who lived in the northeast part of town swear they used to sit on the front porch and follow every play by listening to Andy call 'em out.

That Sandy's Service has a novel way in which they congratulate new arrivals in the homes of their customers. A lovely pair of hand-knit booties in the appropriate color is presented to the baby. With Cypress' fast-growing crop these days, Mrs. "Sandy" Sr. is hard-pressed to keep up with production.

That Sam Rosen's mare exhibited unusual good "horse-sense" recently when she presented him with a little Palomino colt on his birthday yet!

That we were going to tell you about the B. F. Thompson's strange package mailed from the post office recently, but the rush of "White gold day" crowded the item right out of the paper. The box contained three live fugitives from poultry adolescence who were sacrificed to the Poultry Pathological Lab in Los Angeles to determine why their feathers dropped out, mouths opened wide to gasp and rattle for air and they had no neck coordination. This was to protect the 1300 other chicks the Thompsons were trying to raise at 5571 Saint Ann street. Instead of a fancy name like laryngotracheitis, it developed they had plain old vitamin deficiency, thank you, and the brood is now under control and doing fine.

That we were the grateful recipient recently of a gift of eastern Concord grapes from Mr. Norland, who brought them to us from his back yard. They were the nicest smelling and tasting Concord's we've seen since we left those that grow on our own back fence in the middle west. And what we wouldn't have given for one of Mother's grape pies! A delicacy which we find is foreign to many in this part of the country.

That speaking of Mother, from the cradle to the grave we look to her to provide the answer to all our problems, and are always shocked when confronted with the realization that we have demanded beyond a point where the physical can resist, and nature steps in and takes a hand to slow down the processes which we took for granted were timeless and limitless. Sometimes we put off those nice things we "plan" to do in the future until the plans cannot materialize.

That we have read in these pages before of Mrs. Worth C. Miller's uncontrollable desire to give vent to her feelings if highly amused, no matter where or when, but it must have been warranted on a certain Sunday morning in church recently. It seems that in that brief silence following the sermon before the minister pronounced his closing prayer, one of the very youngest members of his congregation, a babe in arms, was heard to breathe in sleep, causing a rough sound. In other words, that mighty snore must have caused even the shocked pastor to wonder just how bored one can get, before its source was identified.

That we rounded out the strain of "White gold day" with a visit to the ice follies at the Pan-Pacific auditorium in Los Angeles and were not disappointed with our memory of recent performances, in a Shipstad and Johnson production, it has always seemed to us that talent is recognized and anyone can become a star. A few of the familiar names were missing, but taking their places were a bevy of young artists in act upon act to which all the adjectives available to the advertising manager were appropriate. To us, none will ever take the place of Frick and Frack whose style and skill have yet to be duplicated. Our only concern was for Roy Shipstad. Perhaps his skates weren't quite sharp enough that night to accomplish that breathtaking leave from the ice following his sophisticated number that he used to execute. Remember? Or could it be that time has taken its toll here, also, and its safer to simply plunge the house in darkness and exit with the physical properties still intact?

That we have now enjoyed our "vacation" for this year—a trip up the mountain to beautiful Lake Gregory and club San Moritz, known as the "Switzerland of California." From the biggest to the littlest of us, the hours spent in the bracing mountain air, including a test on the lake of our rowing ability, gave us renewed vigor for the daily tasks. We have felt it before in the Rockies of Colorado, and we experienced the feeling again at Lake Gregory—that there is nothing like time spent among the peaks and the tall pines to give one the proper perspective of his stature in nature's scheme of things.

That the C. E. Swains Proud Parents Of Twin Daughters Mrs. C. E. Swain is expected home from St. Mary's hospital in Long Beach today, having given birth to twin girls last Friday, September 24. Baby Julie Ann weighed four pounds nine ounces, and her twin sister, Judith Lea, weighed four pounds three ounces. It is a rule of the hospital that babies will not be released until they reach a minimum weight of five pounds each. Judith Lea has already gained three ounces in weight since birth. They are identical twins.

NOTICE

When reporting a fire in Cypress, dial "Operator"—tell her to contact the Cypress Fire Department. It is important that the person who is calling REMAINS ON THE LINE until a Cypress fireman answers the call. Then give name of person reporting, and location of fire.

Institution Of VFW Auxiliary At School Sunday

The official institution of the Cypress auxiliary organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars with its official initiation of members and installation of newly appointed officers will be held Sunday, October third, in the Cypress elementary school auditorium at 2 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend, and refreshments will be served after the ceremonies.

Expected to be present to assist in the proceedings are Mrs. Opal Walter, department chief of staff, of Anaheim; Mrs. Billye Gies, second district president and county treasurer, of Fullerton, second district chief of staff.

Women who are eligible for membership and have not yet done so, may fill out the necessary applications on Sunday before the meeting with the proper payment of dues and be included with the group who have already shown a desire to become members.

Reports On Funds For Park Show Substantial Gain

The recreation park committee has given some thought in its meetings to the further improvement on the land which it purchased last year with funds made available through the first annual "White Gold Day". Although no definite statement on finances can be made at this time, due to bills still outstanding, it is believed there will be a similar satisfactory report on the observance of the second annual "White Gold Day" on September 18, and that there will be a balance after the yearly sum due on the park is paid for to be used for development if desired.

All ticket money and income from the carnival is accounted for, with a few scattered bills still being presented for payment, but being estimated would indicate that the project this year grossed approximately $6,000. The big day is pronounced a success in every way, with a larger carnival and parade this year making more expense.

A final report from the carnival shows that the bingo table cleared $447.49, the ring pitch $64.63, the fortune teller $6.80 and the "jail" $38.10. A more complete report will be made as figures are available, on the total gained for the recreation park fund.

The committee has made all the necessary arrangements for the papers of incorporation, and it is expected that they will be received soon.

An interesting angle toward the future development of the park as a place of amusement for children is the fact that unusual pets and animals are being sought. Anyone having any "zoo" material to donate may contact R. R. Ellsworth.

First Meeting Of Stanton P.T.A. Is Next Tuesday

Mrs. Evert Wells will be program chairman. The executive board will meet at one-thirty p.m. on the same day.

Tuesday forenoon the unit held a reception for mothers of new students at the Eric Borchert at Ball road and Gilbert street, with Mrs. Fred Winters in charge of serving coffee and doughnuts.

NOTICE

Because of the fact that the Pine cafe is closed for an indefinite period, there will be no meeting Tuesday morning of the Business men's breakfast club until a meeting place has been arranged, according to word received from the group's president, Frank Noe.

School Officials Learn Of Funds To Provide Guards

Representatives from schools and school boards throughout the county were in attendance at a meeting Tuesday morning of the county board of supervisors, at which time the matter of "crossing guards" for schools in unincorporated areas was under discussion.

It was discovered by Mrs. Grace Johnson, representative of the board of directors at Laurel elementary school in Los Alamitos when she was in Sacramento this summer on school business, that there is a fund available from income on state gasoline taxes for the purpose of providing for crossing guards to protect the life and limb of school children when crossing streets. However, it is necessary to petition the state in order to secure the funds.

The county board of supervisors went on record as favoring accepting a resolution made to secure from the state the proper authority and money for crossing guards. In addition to Mrs. Johnson, school board member Otte was in attendance at the meeting from Los Alamitos. Those attending from Cypress were Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, principal, D. T. Mackay, secretary, of the local board of directors and A. E. Arnold.

FULTON LEWIS JR. TO REVEAL ELECTION VIEWS

Is the November 2 election "the last call for sound government?" This question is to be discussed by Fulton Lewis Jr., noted commentator on national affairs, speaking in the Shrine Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Monday, October 11. Title of the Lewis address will be "Taps or Reveille?" In explaining his subject, Lewis says: "The United States Government as it has been known heretofore is through—unless there is a housecleaning and renaissance of legitimate American self government, that self government is permanently lost."

Lewis has scored hundreds of important news scoops on the Washington scene. He suggested the making of war alcohol from grain, alleviating the sugar shortage, predicted gas rationing and price controls, and first exposed trouble in the wartime national rubber program.

Members of the state highway police motorcycle corps have been on duty in Cypress at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Walker street checking on traffic at the four-way stop signs. A few arrests were made necessary because of law violations.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This year, Fire Prevention Week will be observed from October 3 to 9. And never in our history has there been a time when the week was more important.

Our fire waste is still running at an all-time high. During the first seven months of this year alone the destruction amounted to more than $437,000,000—far exceeding the total for the entire year of 1944. And we cannot blame this on higher prices and values. They are a factor, of course, but the fact remains that we are having more fires, and that the average fire is causing more destruction.

Fire prevention is especially important on farms and in rural areas, which usually lack first-class fire fighting facilities. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, farm fires take 3,500 lives and do $100,000,000 worth of damage annually. And nearly one-third of those fires could be prevented by the installation of lightning rods of the proper type on buildings. Other major causes of farm fires are improper handling of gasoline, and chimneys and flues which are dirty or in bad condition. Simple care and adequate maintenance would eliminate the vast majority of these dangers.

The toll of death and destruction by fire can and must be checked. Fire Prevention Week will witness a peak of activity by the forces whose job is to prevent fire and to educate the people in fire safety. If the country will listen and learn, this needless waste can be reduced now.

EDITED PAPER AS CHRIST WOULD HAVE

On March 13 way back in 1900 appeared one of the strangest newspapers ever seen in this country. It was the Topeka, Kansas "Capital", which had been turned over to the editorship of Rev. Charles Sheldon to be run "as Doctor Sheldon thinks Christ would edit it."

The Reverend Mr. Sheldon was the author of "In His Steps", a book about how ordinary people in a mid-west community agreed to live for one year as they believed Christ would have bade them. Sheldon's book was one of the best sellers of all time, and although newspaper historian Frank Luther Mott has pared down the sales figures, it still remains as one of the most popular books in this country next to the Bible. One of the characters in the book was a newspaper editor who agreed to publish a paper as he believed Christ would have. After many trials, he found that his paper succeeded better than ever before.

The publishers of the Topeka "Capital" asked the Reverend Mr. Sheldon to carry out the idea. Despite the sneers of the cynics and the prophecies of the experienced journalists, the revised "Capital" was a sensation. It jumped from a circulation of 15,000 to more than 300,000 and had to be printed in several plants because of production difficulties. It was, moreover, a very readable and entertaining sheet.

TRAVELOGUE

Written by W. C. Miller, former publisher of West Orange County publishing company.

Yellowstone Lake was beautiful with low hanging clouds the morning of July fourth. We packed up early and left Thumb camp before the people had shown much activity. By the time we reached Fisherman's bridge hundreds of fisherman were busy attempting to lure the trout into taking the hook. We left the lake and drifted along the lazy river shore until it dove off the first fall. A mist arose from the tumbling water and crept up through the forests on either side of the river. We passed the second falls but did not stop until we reached Inspiration Point some three miles down river.

A narrow plank walk follows a narrow ledge of rock that reaches out like a finger from the mainland and overhangs the river at Inspiration Point. The river rushes along in a narrow trough hundreds of feet below. Up river the second falls are magnificent. This is one of the inspiring sights of the world a great river falling more than three hundred feet and then rushing along at your feet in such narrow confines that it appears to be but a small stream.

We left the river and started up the east loop that would lead us over Dunraven pass. A few miles from the river, as we were passing through a beautiful forest, we came to a traffic jam. We edged our way through the parked cars for half a mile before we came to the cause of the jam. A little brown cub bear had become frightened and climbed one of those tall Post Pole Pines and had climbed so far up the slender tree that it began to sway and the little bear was afraid to reverse and come down. The old mother bear would climb up as far as she would dare and would groan and grunt but the little cub would not listen but clung to his uncertain perch swaying in the wind. Of course, no one dared to approach too near the tree. We did not stay to see what happened.

We crossed over the pass through the snow banks and descended down into the valley. On our way down we passed three bull moose. Man, they were noble creatures. They were feeding quietly on a little knoll near the highway until some one with a camera attempted to approach them for a snapshot. On the approach of the man the big brutes set sail down and across the valley like some full rigged sailing ships in a choppy sea. We watched the great beasts, cumbersome but graceful in their flight, until they disappeared in the forest across the canyon.

Our way then lead over one ridge after another. Forests covered the ridges and the little valleys were meadows colorful with wild flowers. Just before we reached Tower Falls is one of the picturesque spots of the park. Tower creek drops about one hundred feet over a wide ledge. The water spread so thinly that the falls resembles a sheet of silver. Just beyond the falls the highway is etched out of tall bluffs overlooking the Yellowstone. The rock formation at this point is very unique and interesting.

Leaving the river again the highway goes up and over down and up again always through green forests and green valleys. Finally we approached Mammoth Hot Springs. Instead of coming forth in the valley the springs burst forth on a high mesa. The springs with their lime like deposits have built beautiful cascades all the way up the mesa wall. There is a great bath house and quite a village where tourists spend weeks and even months.

From Mammoth we followed along a tumbling creek where the fishermen were trying their luck. We soon came to the Northwest entrance of the park at Gardiner. Our highway crossed the Yellowstone as it flowed northward and we proceeded down the river into the vastness of Montana. We felt sorta' relieved as we left the craters and the steam jets and the hot springs behind. Yellowstone is a glorious outing but as a steady diet it gets on your nerves. The mystery, the unexpected, seem to be a nerve strain that tires you without your knowing it. Montana, what a country? Next week I'll attempt to tell you of some of its valleys.

Mrs. Robert L. Cue and two small sons have left for Plainview, Texas where they will visit relatives until they can join their husband and father, who is now stationed in Japan with the U.S. Air Forces.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Street, who have been residing at the home of their son on Green street, have left for Paris, Arkansas where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Carpenter had as their recent dinner guests Mrs. Lucille Mathews and son, Larry, of Santa Ana and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis of Lynwood.

Over $100 was netted by the Firemen's Auxiliary at their spaghetti dinner. The money was used to purchase dishes and cooking utensils for the fire hall.

Because of the lack of fire hydrants in Los Alamitos, it was necessary to add an auxiliary truck to furnish water to the equipment of the fire department. The purchase on the new truck was made possible through the donations of the local townspeople. The department has in mind the purchase of a resuscitator or a respirator in the near future, the nearest one at the present time being Midway City or Buena Park.

Omer Watte has returned from a three month's trip to his native Belgium. Earlier in the summer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watte, parents of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pattyn, made a two month's trip to Belgium, the trip both ways being made by air.

New School Bus On Schedule For Anaheim High

Because of pressure brought to bear by parents of local high school students whose extra-curricular activities keep them later than the bus schedule to return pupils to their homes in the Cypress area, the school has now provided for an extra bus which is known as the "sports" bus, and leaves at five-fifteen every day except Friday.

At this season of the year, the sport activity centers mostly around football, students are asked to cooperate and make use of this bus so that the schedule will be maintained later in the year when the weather becomes inclement and it is difficult and unpleasant to "hitch" a ride home.

If the present extra "sport" bus proves satisfactory, it will be a great service to the boys and girls who must stay longer hours after school is dismissed when the rainy season gets underway.

THIS & THAT

Sale at auction of $25,000,000 in bonds to finance the purchase of farms and homes by California veterans will be held in the State Capitol at Sacramento at 11 a.m. on October 19, it was announced by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson.

The bond sale was directed by Governor Earl Warren on the recommendation of the California Veterans Board. Lawrence C. Stevens, Director of Veterans Affairs, estimated that the $25,000,000 would finance the low-interest State Farm and Home Purchase Plan until next summer.

The bonds carry an interest rate of 2½ per cent. There have been two previous sales of bonds since the voters approved a $100,000,000 issue for veterans' purchase plan in November, 1946, each sale for $10,000,000. The sale next month will bring the total amount used, of this authorization, to $45,000,000.

SHERYL KELLEY'S SECOND BIRTHDAY OBSERVED FRIDAY

Little Sheryl Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelley, observed her second birthday anniversary last Friday and in honor of the occasion, her mother invited a few friends and relatives to spend the evening at the family home on Crescent street. After the little celebrant had opened birthday gifts, her mother served ice cream with the birthday cake which was decorated with two candles.

Sharing in the festivities were her grandparents, Mrs. Andy Castro and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCoid, Mr. and Mrs. William Lightfoot, Mr. and Mrs. George König and daughter, Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilchrist, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand König and sons, George and Jack, the latter of Westminster.

Surprise Party For Oren Harvey

A group of friends invited to their home by his wife, caught Oren B. Harvey completely off guard and successfully surprised him on his birthday, last Friday evening.

After the gifts were opened, the group played "bingo." At a refreshment time, a beautifully decorated two-tiered birthday cake was served with Hawaiian punch.

Those included in the evening's festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miehls; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hubbard and "Bill" Menker; Mr. and Mrs. Irv Forrest and Joanne, Mrs. G. T. Alleman, Harry J. DeSpain, Beth Kroesen and the host couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffreys of Santa Monica were passengers in a plane which failed to make a proper landing at Cypress Airport last Saturday. One of the brakes caught fast, making it impossible to bring the craft to a stop. After tangling with some orange trees at the end of the runway, neither of the occupants was found to be injured. Although the wings were badly damaged, it was disclosed later that Jeffreys was offered a set of steel wings to replace the wooden one on his war-surplus plane, which he had been unable to procure previously. An unhappy party to the plane mishap was the couple's pet Chihuahua. The visit to the E. C. Summer's home in Cypress was being made since they are the owners of a pedigreed male of the same breed.

Hathcock Home Scene Of Shower For Triplets

A shower beginning at ten o'clock last Wednesday morning was given for the triplet sons of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Weigert of 5691 Saint Ann avenue, with Mrs. C. H. Bott and Mrs. T. M. Priddy assisting Mrs. Hathcock in hostess duties.

Friends and neighbors interested in the arrival of triplets in a home expecting twins at the most, arrived early to sew on needed articles of clothing and contribute to the general well-being of the trio, in whom a great deal of interest has been displayed locally and over the country.

The hostesses served a delicious lunch to the guests at noon-time, and all enjoyed a pleasant social period filled with accomplishment, in the interests of the little boys, who, with their mother, are expected home from the hospital today (Friday).

A special guest at the party was Mrs. Weigert's mother, Mrs. Dora Bennett, who is visiting here from Indiana, and who was introduced by a neighbor, Mrs. L. Wehmeyer.

Little Towns And Big Cities Unite To Fight Fire

More cities, towns, and villages will join this year in observing National Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9, than ever before, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has announced.

One cause of the increased interest in this 37th annual observation is the work done by the President's Conference on Fire Prevention at its meetings last year. The conference encouraged the selection of Fire Safety Committees in more than 500 cities.

Fire Prevention week, which will call attention of all citizens to local fire hazards, originated in the Middle West, where more than 40 years ago many communities held an annual "clean-up" day. Various people noticed that this yearly campaign reduced the number of fires, and several towns began referring to the annual event as Fire Prevention Day.

Later they settled upon October 9, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871, as the date.

In 1911, the Fire Marshals Association of North America suggested that the 40th anniversary of the great fire be set aside nationally to alert the American people to the increasing dangers from fire. Twenty-two governors acted upon the suggestion.

In 1920, President Wilson proclaimed October 9 as National Fire Prevention Day. President Harding made the observance a National Fire Prevention Week, and each succeeding President has issued a similar proclamation.

PRESERVE NITROGEN IN POULTRY MANURE

Poultry manure and rabbit manure are valuable fertilizers for California soils. H. W. Longfellow, Assistant Farm Advisor says nitrogen is the most valuable element of these manures and every precaution should be taken to preserve it. Some nitrogen may be lost in drying unless special care is taken. Spreading manure on the soil as soon as it is acquired will prevent loss of nutrients. The next best plan is to dry the manure quickly, for dry manure decomposes very little.

If manure must be stored moist, the water content should be increased to the point where heating will not take place, but it should not be so wet that liquid drains from the pile. Peat moss, straw litter, or waste hay absorbs moisture and retards loss of nitrogen. Powered gypsum or acid phosphate added at the rate of two to ten per cent by weight acts as an effective preservative of nitrogen. Under no circumstances should lime or ashes be used.

The fly menace can be reduced by covering the manure with dry earth while it is being held. It may be stored in screened sheds away from flies and the screens painted with DDT to kill the flies that are attracted.

THIS AND THAT

July taxable distributions of gasoline, exceeded only once in the history of the motor vehicle fuel tax, amounted to 282,826,626 gallons and produced revenues of $11,345,202 after July refunds for non-highway use, according to William G. Bonelli, chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

Gallons of gasoline which was subject to tax rose 17.6 percent over the total for July. Net revenues were only 12.7 percent higher, however, because of a large increase in refunds for non-highway use. Bonelli explained that refunds lag several months behind the assessments of the tax, and that those made in July 1947 were based on the 3-cent levy while most refunds made in July 1948 were at the rate of 4 1/2 cents per gallon.

July distributions of gasoline exceeded those of June by nearly 3 1/2 million gallons, reflecting increased tourist demands which customarily occur during this month. The total was also greater than that of June 1947 when heavy purchases were made in an apparent effort to escape the increase in the rate which became effective July 1, 1947.

A hobby designed to keep former members of his army outfit in touch with each other through the years was started in 1946 by Clarence R. Gordon, 100 W. 13th Avenue, Denver, Colorado, who publishes a quarterly magazine—"Ex-CBI Roundup"—for GI's who served in the China-Burma-India theater of war.

Gordon states his magazine has grown tremendously in the past two years, now requiring more of his time than his "full time" job as managing editor of an automotive trade magazine, since he receives a huge volume of mail daily from CBI veterans in all parts of the nation.

Included in the numerous inquiries he has received, Gordon declares he has been requested to obtain information on mishaps in which flyers lost their lives or were reported missing in action, questions pertaining to scenery in India and China, friends seeking lost buddies, etc.

Gordon's venture has been widely publicized and the magazine was recently designated the official publication for the National CBI Veterans Association. He hopes eventually to list most of the 245,000 CBI veterans as subscribers. Subscription price is $1.00 per year.

Eligible veterans are invited to send in their subscriptions, which must be accompanied by information as to rank at discharge, CBI base, CBI outfit, army job and present occupation. Gordon reproduces excerpts from the letters in each issue of The Roundup.

In connection with the approaching induction of personnel for the armed services, a brief abstract of the processing of inductees has been announced by department of the army, through whose recruiting main stations, persons inducted will be channeled.

The required number of registrants for each call will be ordered to induction stations for pre-induction complete mental and physical examinations, upon completion of which, the registrants will be returned to their homes.

The results of these pre-induction examinations will be referred to local selective service boards. Those found to be acceptable will become subject to induction. 21 become subject to induction. And days after such notification, and will be placed in pools by the local Selective Service boards to be drawn on to meet calls received from the state director of selection.

Voluntary enlistment of personnel will be continued by the three military departments during the period of operation of the Selective Service Act of 1948. In this connection, it was pointed out by Major J. S. Muir, Army and Air Force Recruiting officer in this area that no person will be accepted for enlistment after he has received orders to report for the pre-induction examination prior to induction examination.

SCHOOL signs again take on new meaning during the fall months following the summer vacation.
